

By the President of the United States—A Proclamation: The recurrence of that season at which it is the habit of our people to make devout and public confession of their constant dependence on Divine favor for all good gifts of life and happiness, and of public peace and prosperity, as exhibited in the record of the year, the abundant harvests of our agriculture, the productive mines, ample crops of the staples of trade and manufactures which have enriched the country; the resources thus far furnished to our reviving industry and expanding commerce, and hastening the day when discord and distresses through the length and breadth of the land will, under the continuing favor of Providence, have given way to confidence and energy and assured prosperity; peace with all nations has remained unbroken; domestic tranquility has prevailed, and the institutions of liberty and justice which our fathers have bequeathed to their children, remain the glory and the defense of the people. The general sentiment of the nation is one of sympathy and sorrow which have made more conspicuous the sufferings and sorrows which the dark shadow of pestilence has cast on a portion of our people. This heavy affliction, even the Divine Ruler has tempered to the suffering community by the universal sympathy and sorrow which have descended to their relief, and the whole nation may rejoice in the unity of spirit in our people by which they cheerfully share one another's burdens.

Now, therefore, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, do hereby set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this 28th day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, and the independence of the United States one hundred and third.

R. B. HAYES, By the President, WM. M. EVARTS, Secretary of State.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By the Governor of Wisconsin.

A PROCLAMATION. Another year of health, peace and prosperity has been vouchsafed unto the people of Wisconsin, mercifully reminding them to acknowledge in a befitting manner their gratitude to Almighty God and dependence upon him for the blessings of his providence.

Therefore, in obedience to the custom of the country, now wisely sanctioned by law, and conforming to the recent proclamation of the President of the United States, in that behalf, I, WILLIAM E. SMITH, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby appoint

Thursday, the 28th day of November, instant, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise; and I recommend to all the people of Wisconsin, on that day, to show forth their gratitude, by liberal benedictions to the poor, by visits to the sick and to the afflicted, and by such religious and social festivities as shall comport with the occasion and best interest them to praise the Lord; to make known his deeds among the people and all his good works.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the City of Madison, this seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

By the Governor: WILLIAM E. SMITH, JAMES B. WARNER, Secretary of State.

A Romance of the War.

From the Pittsburgh Leader.

A gentleman well acquainted with Col. Realf and an ardent admirer of his poetry, relates a story told to him while the two spent a night in conversation, criticism and recollections, so dear to men of his kind, over a cozy fire and warm decoctions. He spoke of the night before the battle at which Gen. W. S. Lytle fell. The two (Realf and Gen.) lay together in the General's tent. They were both given to writing poetry at such times, and each had an unfinished poem on hand, and they read and criticized each other's efforts humorously for some time, when said Lytle:

"Realf, I shall never live to finish that poem."

"Nonsense," said I, "you will live to write volumes of such stuff."

"A feeling has suddenly come over me," continued the general solemnly, "which is more sagging than a prophecy, which is more killing to me to-morrow's fight. As I spoke to you I saw the green hills of the Ohio as if I stood among them. They began to recede from me in a weird way, and as they disappeared, the conviction flashed through me like the lightning's shock that I would never see them again."

"I rallied him forthwith, and he said that he had become strangely impressed upon his mind, and he succeeded in so far thrilling me with his own unnatural fear that I begged him to finish his poem before he slept, that such fine work might not be lost to the world."

"In the small hours the general awakened me from a slumber into which I had fallen, to read to me that beautiful poem, which must live as long as our literature survives beginning:

"I am dying, Egypt, dying;
Ere the crimson life blood staid.

"My eyes filled with tears as he read. He said not a word as he concluded, but placed the manuscript in his pocket and lay down to sleep.

"Before dawn came the call to arms. When I next saw poor Lytle he was cold in death among heaps of slain. I thought of the poem, and, searching the pocket where I had seen him put it, drew it forth and it was forwarded among other things to his friends."

Postal Card Troubles.

Postal cards often give rise to peculiar troubles. A Rochester lumber dealer mailed one to a discharged clerk, accusing him of swindling, and the clerk has obtained a verdict of $450 damages, based on the publicity of the charges, while passing through the mails. A similar charge is on trial at Pittsburgh, the plaintiff being a sewing-machine agent, to whom his employer addressed an accusation of improperly retaining money. An Omaha clergyman publishes a card that he frequently receives advertisements of wine and other liquors printed on postal cards, which is likely to create a false impression on the minds of people.

Toward the end of the last reign in Russia, a native official of high rank, having questioned their reputed skill in tracking down any one on whose track they might set, was challenged by the Minister of Police to test it in his own person. Accordingly, the Russian left the capital, and returning to it a month later with the utmost secrecy, in a seemingly impenetrable disguise, took up his quarters at an obscure tavern in the poorest part of the city; but he had hardly been there an hour when he was astonished by the arrival of a courier with a card from the Minister, inviting him to dinner that evening.

Gordon was almost unanimously re-elected and without a convention of both Houses, he received every vote in the Senate and all but five in the House. Strong efforts have been made to organize an opposition against him but without success.

FOREIGN.

The International Conspiracy—Particulars of the Attack on King Humbert.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The English Cabinet have been summoned to meet this evening. It is believed the American reply to England's ultimatum has been received. The Clyde ship builders have decided to write poetry at such times, and each had an unfinished poem on hand, and they read and criticized each other's efforts humorously for some time, when said Lytle:

"Realf, I shall never live to finish that poem."

"Nonsense," said I, "you will live to write volumes of such stuff."

"A feeling has suddenly come over me," continued the general solemnly, "which is more sagging than a prophecy, which is more killing to me to-morrow's fight. Life Insurers Excited.

Colonel Walton Dwight, Who Had a Quarter of a Million Dollars Insurance, Commits Suicide, Leaving the Policies to His Wife and Family.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The death of Colonel Walton Dwight, of Binghamton, on Saturday last, has created much excitement in the life insurance offices of this city, for it is known that during the last three months he obtained policies of insurance on his life amounting to $250,000, and peculiar circumstances attending his death have given rise to a suspicion that he sought self-destruction for the sake of leaving this sum to his wife and son, but so far, it is admitted that there is no direct evidence of fraud. The insurance companies, it is said, are sure to contest the validity of his obligations, on the ground that (Dwight wilfully made away with himself.

CAPITOL NOTES.

Meeting of the House Committee—The Census—An Imposter—Other Items.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Several important Congressional committees are expected to meet this week and the first of next. The House Committee on Appropriations expects to begin work to-morrow, so as to have several bills ready for the House when it meets. They have received the book of estimates from the Treasury Department, and their labor need be very light, as the department officials, except in three bureaus of the government, have reduced their estimate to, or below, the figures of the last appropriation bill. The three exceptions are the Land and Pension offices, which need more clerks, and the bureau of railway mail transportation, which asks for additional money to extend and improve the mail service.

The committee on preparing a plan for taking the census will meet this week to get their work along before Congress meets.

The Committee on Ways and Means, with which an attention of members investigated the New York Custom House last summer, adjourned to meet here on the 25th inst., but they are not expected to do anything.

Several other committees of minor importance have called meetings, and the joint committee on the reorganization of the army is expected to hold its sessions in New York.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Subscriptions to a 4 percent loan to-day, $1,203,950.

The session of the Cabinet to-day was of short duration, routine business only being considered.

Chief Clerk Hogg, of the Navy Department, who has been making investigations, telegraphs that Barker, the seaman of the Harriet, was undoubtedly lost in the wreck of that vessel, and the man personating him is an impostor. The claimant, however, resembles a likeness of Bader. He is now missing, having left the navy yard clandestinely last night.

GRANT.

General Grant and the Illinois Senatorship.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—A Washington dispatch says: "A report is circulated that the friends of President Grant will bring him forward for the United States Senate from Illinois, as a third candidate against Oglesby and Logan, in case of a dead lock. It is not believed that either will stand against him. It is also doubtful if Grant will allow his name to be used against either. It is thought by some to be a scheme for killing his Presidential nomination."

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

A Dispute Between Two Prominent Citizens of Indianapolis Ends in a Tragedy.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—Another horrible tragedy was enacted in this city about 4 o'clock this afternoon. Warren Tate, formerly a successful business man of this city, fatally shot William Love, a prominent real estate dealer. The following are the facts in relation to the cause and manner in which the crime was committed. Some months ago Tate brought suit against Milton Padear to settle some difficulties growing out of their business relations, and it was during the trial of this cause to-day that the crime was committed.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—The diocesan convention of the Episcopal Church convened to-day. Bishop Welles delivered an address in which several recommendations of local interest were presented, and in which the denomination were congratulated on the progress during the year. The See system and cathedral establishment, the leading question before the body, will be discussed to-day. The attendance is large.

From the Cincinnati Gazette.

We have before us the following contract by the selectmen of Newbury, Mass., in behalf of Joseph C., ancestor of a well known family of this city. We withhold the full names by request:

Whereas Joseph C., have engaged to serve in the Continental army as a soldier for the town of Newbury for the term of six months from his arrival at Springfield, in consideration whereof, we are subscribers, treasurers of town, do promise for ourselves and successors to pay the said Joseph C., twenty bushels of good merchantable Indian corn per week, for said service or Deliver to his wife the value thereof in corn or other necessary of life that she may call upon us for during the said service.

MOODY FOLLENSBE JOHN SHIMMERS (?) JOSEPH C. Selectmen of Newbury.

On the back of the document are the following endorsements:

Newbury, July 1, 1780.—Received one thousand and twenty dollars, which is equal to seventeen bushels of Indian corn, in part of the within note.

Received same. JOSEPH C. Newbury, Jan. 20, 1781.—Received of the select (men) eighteen hundred pounds in full of the within note.

JOSEPH C.—It will be seen by the first of the above endorsements, that on the day it was written, corn was worth the moderate sum of $80 a bushel. Estimating the pounds in the second endorsement, at the old Colonial value of $33 1/3, Mr. C. was paid about $6,000 as the balance of his dues for six months' service. This example of what was done ninety-eight years ago is a forcible illustration of what the Greenbacks propose to bring on themselves an others.

A Far Traveled Telegram.

A remarkable instance of the value of the telegraph in abridging time and space and enabling many nations to join in being useful to each other has been brought under notice in America. A resident in Auburn, New York, wished to communicate with a friend in Sydney, New South Wales, and sent him a telegram, on which $65 was charged. Let the reader take a globe or map and trace the following route: To reach its destination it had to traverse the Atlantic, Europe, Asia and the Eastern archipelago; passing over about 250 degrees of longitude, and about 90 degrees of latitude. It passed through the United States, Newfoundland, Ireland, England, Germany, Russia (European and Asiatic), reaching Vladivostok, in what is termed the "third region" of Siberia. Passing thence, the message next traversed the Yellow Sea to Shanghai, passing through Nagasaki, in Japan, en route, and subsequently by the submarine cable, touching at various points; finally starting from Bangkok, the terminal point in Java for Port Darwin, in Australia, and so to its destination. The journey would exceed 20,000 miles, being nearly equal to the earth's circumference, and almost double the direct distance between the points, had a westward route been open.

—Mr. Mesick and family have moved into the house owned by C. W. Cobb.
—James Baldwin now occupies a portion of Mrs. Radway's house.
—The steam mill now runs night and day, and adds not a little to the activity of the place.
—The car loads of cheese go forward from the factories of Cheever & Pierce this week, which closes out the business for this season.
—Miss Nellie Winchester is slowly recovering from her severe illness. Mrs. Earl is also thought to be some better.
—Mr. Ira W. is still quite low, and Mr. John Thomas is constantly failing in health and strength.

—Deacon D. F. Whitcomb, of Janesville, called on his Clinton friends last Saturday, on his way home from an extended visit among his children in Nebraska.
—A series of religious meetings are to be held at the Baptist church, commencing next Sunday morning. Rev. George Bacon, of Kansas, is to assist Elder Marston in conducting the services.
—Kennedy, Reigart & Co. are now fully established as the successors of Birdsell & Co. in the grocery business, and have enlarged their store by adding twenty feet to the west end.
—Another installment of lamps and clocks at Covert & Cheever's drug store.
—Our side walks are sadly in need of repairs, and inasmuch as our worthy pathmaster is out of funds, would it not be well for individuals to repair walks in front of their own lots before winter sets in.
—Hon. E. M. Sharp, of Delavan, passed through Clinton, last week, on his return to Canada, after a short visit to Wisconsin.
—The last two weeks of fine weather has enabled farmers to get a large amount of banking and plowing done, but there still remains much to do of this kind of work.
—Hundreds of hogs are shipped from this market each week, and about $250 per hundred is the price paid.
—The familiar face of H. Pierce, Esq., is again seen at the Clinton elevator.

—S. J. Simmons has a new wood-shed of imposing dimensions.
—The Western Union railroad has built a large shed over a portion of their stock yard and graveled the ground under it; a timely improvement.
—Deacon Thomas M. Martin, of Rockford, is making his numerous Clinton friends happy by calling on them this week.
A GRANGE GATHERING AT CENTON.
The entertainment given by the Center Grange Friday evening was highly appreciated by the large number in attendance, and no effort was spared to make everything pleasant and profitable, and in affording an evening's healthful amusement, for both old and young, much credit is due to all who were connected with it.
The literary part of the entertainment consisted of declamations, tableau and dialogue, interspersed with music by Berrie's Band. Mr. Geo. Parmley acted as stage manager, and opened the exercises by announcing a declamation, "Damon and Pythias" by Miss Helen Welch. The speaker was tastefully dressed and made a fine stage appearance, while her enunciation, gesture and studied emphasis made a strong impression upon the audience. A tableau—"The Murder of Jane McCrea," was followed by the recitation in character, of "Over the Hill to the Poor House," by Miss Hattie Cleland, who rendered the piece so well as to elicit the hearty applause of her hearers. A short dialogue in the German dialect pleased the boys and helped to keep the older ones in good humor while they waited for the succeeding tableaux. "The Statue of Truth" was beautifully represented by Miss Lottie Bailey standing on a pedestal, with her golden hair falling loosely upon the folds of the spotted drapery in which she was enveloped. The tragedy of "Busheard" completed the programme. Mr. Abel Fisher playing the title role. His stage make-up for they harmonized so well with our most exalted idea of that character, that we recognized him at once. If the length and growth of beard is any indication of wisdom, Peter the Hermit would have been an idiot to him. Miss Helen Welch, as Bluebeard's wife, the living one, played her part remarkably well for an amateur, as did also Miss Kittie Welch, Mrs. E. L. Parmley, Mr. Robinson, and Mr. E. L. Parmley, in other parts of the play. The dead wives presented a ghastly spectacle, hanging as they apparently did by the hair of the head, and the painful impression made was not removed until late in the evening when it was discovered that four out of the seven had been resuscitated and were peacefully enjoying their supper together. The concluding part of the play was very affecting, especially where the wife's brothers come rushing in to the rescue. Swords were not enough, but a pistol sufficed to do the deadly work. They fired pretty high, but the shot "tetched" him just as well as if the aim had been more accurate and deadly. In the supplementary scene, when the rescued reclined on a couch surrounded by her relatives watching for the spark of life, as it feebly returns, considerable movement was caused by the Rev. Mr. Doremus standing with his wrist in one hand and his watch in the other while his vision oscillated between the two. At the close of the literary part of the entertainment an oyster supper was announced as being in preparation below. In reparing to the banquet hall we of necessity passed through the kitchen, which arrangements, by the way, possess a double advantage, for while you can see for yourself that no officious cook thrust his hands into the soup, it leads you to reserve your appetite in the first course for what you have seen in preparation for the second. Then that accomplished culinary artist, Charles Fisher, wearing up the oysters and giving directions to his numerous assistants. The tables were covered with everything that the most healthy appetite could wish, while the stock in reserve, that filled the kitchen and loaded down the long table in the center of the dining hall, leads us to think that the hard times so much complained of in other localities have not yet reached the town of Center. We sat down to a bounteous supper, and from the numerous "Oliver Twist" like calls for more soup, the cook must have been convinced that his efforts were being duly appreciated.
Faithful Protestant Clergymen.
New Orleans Presbyterian.
When the epidemic broke out several of our pastors were absent from the city. They, of course, returned. Among them we recall the names of Dr. Palmer and Rev. B. Wyne, Presbyterian, and Rev. Mr.

Waters, of the Episcopal church. Rev. Mr. Kramer, of Christ church, we are told, was preparing to leave, but abandoned the plan, and has been unwearied in labors throughout the summer. An unusually large number of ministers were unaccompanied, and as their duties, if present, would keep them in almost constant contact with the disease in all its stages, hence liable to its severe attacks, the churches and their physicians generously and generally urged them to absent themselves until frost. We do not know of a single instance in which such an invitation was accepted. They had to meet the fever without protection. This will account for the number who were attacked.
Some of these ministers were not attacked till the epidemic had nearly run its course; others, who were attacked at the beginning, before it had disappeared. The other ministers had already been acclimated by having the fever in previous epidemics, and, hence, were not interrupted in their work.
Not only were our ministers at work, but also their congregations. The young men generally associated with the Harvard, or with the Young Men's Christian association. They have done a noble work—a work which is in itself a noble tribute to the principles and spirit of humanity.

BRIEFLETS.

Oysters are going down.
The festive festivals are furnishing fun for the folks.
Rev. J. L. Jones is the Veteran chaplain elect.
Prof. Severance dancing school tomorrow evening.
Chap. Ingersoll, of Beloit was in the city today cursing around among his many friends.
This is the time of the year when women are able to keep secrets. Getting ready for Christmas.
Concert and dance under the auspices of St. Mary's Catholic church choir at Lappin's hall this evening.
Men should take waiting from the oyster. When an oyster gets in a stew he gets down in the mouth.
Mr. Robinson says he never even entered into any negotiations whatever for the occupancy of the Ogden house.
Mr. Fales appears driving along the streets a fine Messenger Durco stallion. Few cities can show such blooded steppers as Janesville.
Rev. J. W. Sanderson has returned from his trip. His sprained knee which caused him some delay, is behaving itself pretty well now.
Captain Henry C. Miles has rented his farm and gone into the business of buying tobacco. He is on the hunt after the leaf, and is doing nobly.
Rev. H. Sewell will conduct a Bible reading at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association this evening commencing at 7:30 o'clock.
The Postmaster has sent out invitations for 37 gents and 15 ladies to call at the office and learn of something to their advantage. "Advertizing" is the par-word.
Miss Mary Scott, of Independence, Iowa, intends spending the winter in taking music lessons in this city. Janesville is fast getting to be an attractive musical center.
Last Monday the papers were signed, sealed and delivered, transferring the proprietorship of the Clinton Independent from Curt Treat to Mayor P. H. Smith of Calumet, Michigan.
The Knights of Pythias will meet for drill to-night at the armory of the Janesville Veterans, and not at the armory of the Guards, as erroneously announced in other papers.
H. D. McKinney has received another patent on toe-weights, it being for the kind which he has been making which needs no straps. The toe-weight business is rushing. Yesterday Mr. McKinney received a heavy order from California.
Mr. B. F. Greene and family have removed to Ottumwa, Iowa, where they will make their home. They will be greatly missed by many friends here, and the best wishes of scores of warm hearts will follow them to their new abiding place.
Friday night next the Guards give their reception and ball. A good time is expected for all. The hall will be decorated in military style, gay militiamen from other cities will appear in uniform, and everybody is expected to join in having a joyous time.
Miss Mary Bertha Jacobson, a young lady who has been lingering some time with consumption, passed away yesterday afternoon at the residence of her father in the Second ward. The funeral services will take place at the Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Sanderson to whose Sunday School class she belonged, will conduct the services.
We received a pleasant call this afternoon from Walter Hamilton, of Milton, and Stephen C. Maxon, of Walla Walla, Washington Territory. Mr. and Mrs. Maxon were formerly residents of Rock County, but emigrated west twenty-one years ago, nineteen years having been spent in Washington Territory. They have now returned for an old fashioned visit with old friends and relatives, and will visit the East before they return to the far West.
The entertainment given by the Congregational society last evening at Lappin's hall, was well attended. The literary exercises consisted of music by the young people, and by a quartet consisting of Messrs. Follansbee, Vankirk, Clark and Webster, with Miss Battle at the organ. Miss Ella Hudson gave two recitations, and Rev. Mr. Sawin read a very amusing letter, supposed to have been written by a country dame to an editor. Several tempting tables were spread, and bivalves with coffee and cake were offered in abundance. The entertainment was reasonably profitable to the society and enjoyable to those who participated.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 36 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 48 degrees above. Cloudy, and slight fall of rain. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 32 degrees and 50 degrees above.

The indication to-day for the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys partly cloudy weather, rain areas, warm southerly winds, falling barometer, followed by rising barometer and cold northwest winds.

A RAILROAD RUMPS.

The war between the Chicago & North-western Railroad and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul has at length reached Clifton. For some time past an effort has been made by each to prevent the other from using side tracks belonging to individual companies on which were located grain elevators, steam mills etc. For a week past an engine with steam up, and a train of cars have stood on the side track belonging to the Western Union railroad. This being somewhat expensive, on Saturday the employees of that company loaded an old car with earth and managed to run it off the track at a point where it will obstruct that end of the side track most effectually until removed. What the end will be remains to be seen.

A MIDNIGHT PLOT.

A Mysterious Chat Overheard by an Accidental Listener—Supposed Planning of a Bank Robbery.

One of Janesville's old reliable citizens was wandering his way homeward about 12 o'clock one night, and near the Congregational church had occasion to drop into a shadowy nook, and while there overheard a conversation between two men, who were evidently concocting some foul scheme. The tid-bit of conversation was opened as follows, the bad words being left out:

"I tell you we can do it like a mice."
"I don't know. It's a raw deal, and we may get bagged. If we do we would get a long stretch."

"Get out! It's no job at all. There is no one there at dinner time except that gray headed old son of a gun, and we can fix him in two minutes, and get off with the swag as slick as a greaser."
The two passed along and nothing more could be heard of their talk except an occasional word, which only strengthened the suspicion of the accidental eaves-dropper. From the remarks made, the style of the language used, and from the occasional words heard as they were walking away, the old reliable citizen came to the conclusion that a plot was being formed to boldly rob the First National Bank at noon some day. Enough was heard to convince him that it was advisable to place the bank officials on their guard, and the next day he took occasion to do so. The officials have always arranged their affairs so that it would be next to impossible to carry any such scheme into effect, but they have since kept an extra sharp lookout for the first step in any such direction.

The conversation was indeed a queer one for honest men to indulge in, and it looks as though some mischief was brewing, though it may have been in regard to some other institution. It is a mystery which smatters of an approaching sensation, but the scheme, whatever it is, may be thwarted by giving publicity to this clue.

JUDGE AND JURY.

They are Still Listening to the Whitford-Goodrich Case—Frank Dickerson Pleads to the Charge of Murder—Roethinger's Case.

In the Circuit Court to-day the libel suit of Whitford vs. Goodrich was still on the boards. The prosecution examined two or three witnesses this morning, and then gave way to the defense. Mr. Ezra Goodrich was on the stand the latter part of the forenoon and the most of the afternoon. He gave a history of the college, from its very inception, and other matters which proved rather devoid of any sensationalism.

Frank Dickerson was arraigned this morning on the charge of murder. He pleaded "not guilty," and on expressing his financial inability to fee a lawyer to defend him, the court appointed A. Hyatt Smith to look after his interests.
Johnny Roethinger did not seem to be anxious for trial, on the charge of burglary. He filed an affidavit asking for a continuance, but the document was declared insufficient. He now wants to take a change of venue, but no order has been yet entered to that effect.

HONOR TO DR. KING.

Dr. King, who has been connected with Dr. Palmer for some months past, yesterday received an appointment as Assistant Physician in the State Hospital for the Insane, at Madison. The position proffered to Dr. King is one of prominence and responsibility, and the honor thus conferred is well merited. Dr. King is a young man who has met with marked success as a physician and surgeon, and by his studious habits and love for his profession will be sure to rise to still greater prominence. Socially he is affable, kind-hearted, and a thoroughly true gentleman, with all the virtues that term implies. His friends here will rejoice to learn that he has been selected to fill such an important position, and while they regret to part with him, their best wishes will be his for success in this new field of work. He will enter upon the duties of the position at once.

KEEP OFF THE SCHOOL GROUND.

There has of late been considerable disturbance caused to the inmates of the Central School building by reckless boys and idle outsiders who have been in the habit of passing through the yard whistling, singing, and rollicking. In some cases the outbuildings have been defaced, and other malicious depredations committed. In order to stop these disturbances the Board of Education has now forbidden the use of the grounds as a common thoroughfare, and will treat trespassers according to law. The south entrance to the grounds have been boarded up so that no more travel through the grounds can be indulged in.

A WOODEN WEDDING AT JOHNS-TOWN.

Friday evening there was a pleasant gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Myers, of Johnstown, their friends and neighbors taking this opportunity to give them a surprise, it being their wedding anniversary. They were presented with a very nice chair, which bespoke the respect and esteem in which the friends hold the recipients. Lastly was the bride's wedding cake which was put up at auction, Mrs. Frankie Carter acting as auctioneer, taking part well. It was bid in by F. Williams, causing considerable enjoyment.

REBUILDING THE WILLIAMS HOUSE.

One year ago yesterday the Williams house was burned to the ground. Since then the property has been a matter of dispute in the courts, but, on the anniversary day, all disputes were settled and last night the papers were signed by which Mr. David Jeffers will proceed at once to build a new hotel on the old site. That corner has been an eyesore for some time, but it will soon be graced with one of the best buildings in the city.

ON THE RUN.

This morning the team belonging to William Cunningham, the meat man on the bridge, were being driven along Main street, when in front of the Myers house a strap broke, and the team jumped and run. The butcher wagon to which they were attached struck a post near the Norris house and the team were brought to a standstill, but not before they had raised sad havoc with the harness, and banged up the wagon some.

Large sums of money have been made in Wall street by persons shrewd enough to invest at the right time. The old house of Alex. Frothingham & Co., brokers, 12 Wall Street, New York, is entitled to absolute confidence. Their customers are frequently rewarded by large returns. Send for their Financial Report free.

A JANESVILLE ARTIST.

The following tribute to Mrs. Wm. P. Stowe of this city, appears in the columns of the Milwaukee Sentinel:

There are at present, and will continue to be for a short time, on exhibition in the city three very remarkable pictures from the pen of Mrs. Wm. P. Stowe, of Janesville, which display unmistakably the fine talent and culture of the artist. The first of these, perhaps, from an artistic point of view, is a marine subject, a first copy from one of Edward Moran's celebrated marine pictures. It presents a view of the sea in a storm. The black drift of clouds, the roll of the waves with the sunbeams seen from them, and the foam bursting from their crests, show an unusual feeling of touch, that gives a sense of reality to one of the best and rarest. The devotion of the scene is intensified by the hull of an old wreck which is drifting helplessly at the mercy of the waves. The next in importance, or at least in size, is an autumn scene from the White Mountains, rich with mellow tints of waters and valleys, with the grand swell of purple hills behind. The first but not the least in the estimation of some is called "Loon Lake." The water is nearly covered by a delicate veil of mist, and the soft and dreamy look of the picture will commend it to many.

MILTON JUNCTION.

—W. O. Burdick was in town Sunday visiting family and friends.

—The young people's meeting at the new church on Sunday evening under the direction of Elder Wardner has become a very interesting and profitable appointment for the young folks who seem to take a good deal of interest in the study of Bible subjects.

—On Sunday morning, Mrs. Nancy Burdick, wife of the late Abel G. Burdick of this village, was found dead in her bed, having died during the morning hours, from enlargement of the heart and liver. Decades ago she had been afflicted with beriberi, and more recently with the effects of water round the heart and loss of appetite. She was comparatively alone when she died, there being no one living in the house save her nephew, Abel Burdick, and his little daughter who occupied the upper rooms of the house. A post mortem examination was held by Doctors Cook and Allen and showed her disease to have been caused by the water above. The funeral was held at the church at two o'clock on Monday afternoon. A sermon was preached by Elder Rogers.

—On Thursday night of last week, while E. S. Nye was in town doing some trading, a bundle containing some eight dollars worth of new waterproof cloth purchased, was stolen from his wagon by some unknown parties, who, up to this time have failed to return the same to its rightful owner. Such things are getting too common and it is to be hoped that the light fingered gentry, interested in these thefts, may be brought to light.

—The corn crop is perhaps more nearly husked and secured in this section than it has been before at this season of the year for many years.

—Mr. Mackey's still quite low bit somewhat improved.

—The young folks of this village paid Miss Eliza Burdick a surprise visit on Saturday evening last, and report a pleasant time.

—Surely we have had two weeks of as fine Indian summer as we could wish.

—New buckwheat flour is in the market again, and the aroma of smoking cakes is wafted on the morning air.

—Messrs. Birn & Crumb are putting up a goodly number of wind mills for the substantial farmers of this section who the hard times do not affect.

—Elder Wardner lectures at the Rock River meeting house on Wednesday evening, Nov. 27th, before the Missionary Society of that neighborhood.

—Rev. Joshua Clark of Deruyter, N. Y., preached at the new church on Saturday morning last, Elder Wardner supplying the pulpit at Milton on that morning.

—Rev. Mr. Elledge, pastor of the M. E. church at Milton is holding meetings at the M. E. church on Sunday evenings which are well attended and growing in interest.

—Mr. Ormanzo Cottrell left for Dennison, Iowa, last week where he expects to spend the winter.

—Mr. Foster has commenced operation in dismantling and rebuilding the McAdams house which he has lately purchased. The property will undergo thorough repairs and refitting from top to bottom. The hotel de Foster will when done be a great improvement on the present stand.

—Mr. J. Braley and wife arrived here from Suspension Bridge, New York, last week, on a business visit in connection with his farm, and other interests here.

—Mr. Morgan has at last finished the painting of the Morgan house, and it surely is very much improved in general appearance. Uncle Bill has had the platform front and ends so well lettered, that a blind man through a phool, etc., etc.

—Rev. J. Clarke and his brother, Dr. Clarke, of Deruyter, N. Y., returned home on Monday, their mother, Mrs. Maria Clarke, being somewhat improved.

CITY NOTICES.

INSTRUCTION IN DECORATIVE ART.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, a most efficient and successful teacher of decorative art, is now in the city prepared to instruct such as may desire to secure her services. Specimens of her artistic skill are now on exhibition at King's book store next to the postoffice, and will remain in his show window until Friday next, where all can see them. Next Friday afternoon from 2:30 o'clock till 4:30 o'clock, Mrs. Johnson will be pleased to meet in the Myers house parlors any and all who desire information in regard to her work, and she will at that time make definite arrangements for the organization of classes. The terms are reasonable, and her method of teaching renders the work both easy and enjoyable. It is always desirable that novel and refined attractions should grace our homes, and the approaching holidays will also increase the demand for these things of beauty. In view of this a specialty is made of painting on porcelain-wood, and terra cotta. Private lessons will also be given in drawing, painting in water colors, and modelling in clay.

Liver is King.

The liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movement of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want. dec1dec18w6m

A Medicine Chest for 25 Cents.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a good cathartic. SWAYNE'S TARTAR AND SASSAPILLA PILLS are prepared expressly to meet this necessity; being composed of purely vegetable ingredients, of which Podophyllin or Mandrake, Pine Tree Tar, Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and other celebrated juices enter largely into their composition; the whole strength of which is extracted on an entirely new principle. They are mild in their operation, produce no griping, and are truly a valuable purgative agent, anti-bilious and cathartic medicine. They stimulate the liver to healthy action, cleanse the stomach and bowels of all impurities. Curing sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia or indigestion, bilious, intermittent, remittent and congestive fevers, languor, drowsiness, aching pains in the back, head, slight chills, with flushes of hot, female irregularities, and for a bilious and costive habit, no medicine is so prompt and effectual as Dr. Swayne's TARTAR AND SASSAPILLA PILLS. If you neglect or starve your bowels, you will not procure them for you, we will forward them by mail on receipt of price (in currency or postage stamps), 25 cents a box or five boxes for $1.
